

Camino de Santiago Guide

New concept 100% Hike-Tech

Mobile application for Camino de Santiago's pilgrims.

Who's Hike-Tech?

Hike Tech was established in 2013, in Dublin.

Umberto Di Venosa, specialized in tourism (and in hiking above all), caught the opportunity to provide different services in order to meet the needs of the pilgrims.

The main idea Umberto had was to gather all the useful information and services just in one spot, rather than get access to all of this from different points.

Hike Tech offers valid services for hikers and cyclers, such as luggage transfer, hotel bookings and so forth. We basically work with Camino's pilgrims, although we aim to spread and wide our routes.

What more can we offer in addition to the services of luggage transfer and the possibility to book your accommodations?

The new version of our mobile app, which includes all and more info that a pilgrim could get through a paper guide

A hint of History...

The Camino de Santiago de Compostela pilgrimage, it's a Catholic pilgrimage whose objective is to head to St. James Apostle's grave, located in the crypt of the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela, in Galicia (Spain).

Nowadays 50.000 is the number of pilgrims that every year stops by Saint Saint Jean Pied de Port, which is one of the most famous starting points of the Camino's way.

People from all around the world walk the Camino (more than 118 countries).
